Medical.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,

Medical and Surgical

INSTITUTE.

CONSULTATION IN ALL CASES FREE

CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED

IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE AS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation

READ: READ

I am aware that by dwelling upon so unfaviting a subject as the decay of manly vigor through the loss of the vital principle of life the ignorant may asperse my motives, but the desire to point out to those who suffer, lisp and decay, the true cause of their affliction, is to me an incentive to be forced into abeyance. ... the terrible disease of Seminal Weakness ... the practical physician ... devotes his time ... can tell but its presence can be detected by ... symptoms ... Weakness of the back and limbs, ... loss of muscular power, nervousness ... hot hands, ... short breath ... confusion of ... colorless; slight discharges ... palpitation of the heart ... variable temper etc.

YOUNG MAN, if you experience any of the above symptoms, as enumerated above, pause to ... You may feel strong now, but ... you have the seeds of weakness in your system, and their undermining influences will, sooner or later, dash the fair edifice of your strength to the ground, ... a helpless object being ... Therein lies the danger, for while the patient is being treated for ... affection of the Heart, Lungs, Brain or Digestive organs, he sinks into a general debility that soon adds him to the list of the victims of the terrible disorder, Seminal Weakness.

See in the bent form and languishing steps, the ... victim of the ... Mark the ... complaint in the hollow cheek and dull eye ... is one of the premonitory symptoms ... it is easily shaken off but it grows eventually into ... to pursue his regular b... nights and restless nights and days of depression.

It is the nature of the complaint to ... that leave the poor victim but little hope of recovery. In a single instant it may wither your hopes and blast your fondest aspirations.

... is sought by a natural impulse as a hope of relief. This is an error of the first magnitude ... and he finds himself in a deplorable ... from which there is but the slightest hope of ... This is ... and decrepid, and degenerate ... to both sexes, whether married or single, and to ... of life.

Do not delay if you feel any of the symptoms of this terrible complaint, or if your acts have been such as to lead to them, but by instant application secure to yourself the ... hope of health and happiness. The Doctor uses no mercury or other deleterious drugs—cures, when taken in time, always guaranteed and full and proper vigor restored.

The ... of every confidence.

PERSONS AFFLICTED WITH VENEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the establishment of the Institute the number of cases of Venereal that have been treated show a record unsurpassed by any ... in the world, and the success that has invariably marked the course of treatment,

Without Mercury or other Deleterious Drugs,

The Doctor effects a cure in recent cases in a few days ... no difficulty in curing those of long standing without submitting the patient to ... treatment ... upon him the slightest suspicion or oblige him to neglect his business whether ... or without ... need not be changed. Cures always guaranteed ... pay required.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES.

When a female is in trouble or afflicted with ... medical or surgical assistance the inquiry should ... Where is there a physician ... to administer relief, and whose respectability stands ... in society will recommend him to the confidence of the community ... understanding how imperatively necessary ... circumstances ... to interpose, and by ... calling the attention of the ... to the fact that he has been a Professor of Obstetrics ... Campaign Notes

The Democrats are committing a transparent absurdity when they say that General Grant lacks popularity and that there is ... enthusiasm for him. The irresistible power of his popular strength is just what nominated him. In every State in the Union the veterans compelled the delegates to Chicago to nominate him. There is no honest man but appreciates the fact that at this time his name adds great strength to our ticket all over the country. Its power had been felt in Vermont and Maine will be felt this month in Pennsylvania Ohio Indiana and Nebraska and overwhelmingly felt on the ... of November next. There is no man in the country in whom the people have such deep seated confidence, and if the Copperheads have discovered no enthusiasm for him they have plastered up their ears and are stone blind.

There are now upwards of 200 Grant and Colfax clubs with nearly 100 000 members in Indiana. By the first of next month the number will be increased to at least 1,0 000. No party in Indiana could ever boast of such an organization the popularity of Grant and Colfax having wonderfully facilitated the formation of these clubs, of which there is at least one in every township in Indiana. There are furthermore sixty German Grant and Colfax clubs with between 8 000 and 9 000 members and about 20 000 Fighting Boys in Blue, many of whom however are members of the regular Grant and Colfax clubs. This vast Republican host embracing upward of 100 000 actual voters is more active than any party in the State ever was before. An average of 200 meetings are held each day. Every Republican vote in the State will be polled, and that always defeats the Democracy. On the other hand the Copperhead organizations do not exceed 300 in number with not over 15 000 members. Senator Hendricks moreover, shows by the peculiar manner in which he conducts the campaign, that he no longer counts upon the election of the Democratic State ticket and that all he cares for is the election of a Democratic Legislature.

The Boston Post, the leading Democratic paper of New England, boastingly declares: "There is Democratic thunder all around the sky just now. Our own columns tell the story of Bangor, and in the New York papers are glowing accounts of great Seymour and Blair ratification meetings in Brooklyn, New York, Poughkeepsie, Binghamton, Syracuse and other places. The speakers are earnest, the attendance very large and the enthusiasm prodigious." In the South we hear of Democratic negro clubs, Democratic negro orators, Democratic negro mass meetings, and Democratic Anglo African barbecues. The Charleston News has collated a variety of facts on the subject from the various States—showing that in South and North Carolina, Virginia, Georgia, Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas there will be negro voters for Seymour and Blair. In Louisiana the Democratic negroes got up a Democratic barbecue and a Democratic ball, and at Yazoo City, Mississippi, the white Democrats gave the Democratic negroes a public barbecue "as an evidence and testimonial of our esteem and good will for them and the value of their noble aid in a just cause and patriotic principles, and as a further token of friendship and union in support of Democratic principles." Where's the white man's government? Followers of Rev Joseph Smith, what have you to say? How would you like to have your sisters marry niggers?

The Copperhead papers are changing their tactics in regard to the elections. They now insist that the "Democratic gains" of last fall were all the result of local issues which worked to the disadvantage of the Republicans. They contend that it was in consequence of "odious prohibitory liquor laws in Maine," Massachusetts and Vermont that the regular Republican majorities were cut down, and that where those unpopular enactments were promptly corrected, the bolting Republicans returned to their party. The immense Democratic majority in New York last fall is ascribed to the odious Sunday and license laws, and the Democratic victory in Pennsylvania by nine hundred majority is attributed to faction feuds among the Republicans of Philadelphia and apathy in the party in other parts of the State—all of which, we presume, is true. Lastly we are assured that it was the proposed amendment to the Constitution of Ohio, disfranchising deserters and enfranchising negroes which enabled the Democrats to cut down the Republican majority in the Buckeye State to 3 000. Last year the Democrats denied all this, but suppose it to be the fact, how do they expect to carry those States this fall? The substance of all the Copperhead explanations amounts to this—that the side issues, local causes, faction fights, liquor laws and other things which distracted and weakened the Republican party in 1867 and gave the Copperheads their "gains" have all been settled or brushed aside and the Republican party is now united and marching with full ranks to the assault. Admitting these Copperhead explanations to be correct, what chance is there for the election of Seymour and Blair?

Political Brevities

Wilkes' Spirit says the average betting in the political market is about $1 000 to $600 on Grant with few takers at that odds.

The Boston Post has a new dodge. It tells the Maine lumbermen that "Semmes made business for the ship builders by every vessel he burned." Therefore the Post wants the ship builders to vote the Semmes ticket and show their disapproval of the conduct of those who stopped Semmes' operations.

A Washington dispatch of Sept 17 says: The acknowledged Democratic organ is greatly exercised over the publication of Vallandigham's letter patch ... ordering McCulloch to stop appointing Radicals to office. It denies that the dispatch was received. It is perfectly certain, however, that it did arrive and was duly delivered at the Secretary's office.

Horatio Seymour has always been a blundering politician and prophet. He blundered fearfully about the war at its beginning. He then blundered right and left in regard to the national credit and finances. He then blundered about the draft and the management of things in New York City. He then blundered about the way the war would terminate and the results of its termination. Since then he has blundered in every speech he has delivered, and at the New York Convention he blundered into refusing and accepting the Democratic nomination. Were he elected he would certainly be known as the blundering President.

In the summer of 1862 Major General M. D. Leggett of Zanesville, Ohio, one of the most accomplished officers in the army, wrote to a friend as follows: "The whole story of Grant's drunkenness at Shiloh is mere bosh, and it is a burning shame that so many of our friends at home are giving credence to the report. Grant is by far the best General in our army. If the war lasts three years he will be at the head of all our armies and if our arms are finally successful he will be at the head of the nation. Mark my prediction. His administration and executive abilities are wonderful, and fast being acknowledged by our most intelligent officers and men."

General Dunbar Ward, who was the Democratic candidate for Congress in 1866 against General Schenck, and who was defeated for the nomination by Vallandigham a few weeks since, is stumping the district in behalf of the Copperhead ticket ... ... Vallandigham ... Lebanon in the 12th ... If it were known at the South that there were those at the North who wished them success ... like Vallandigham ... knowledge would revive the flagging arm of rebellion ... of the North followed the advice of ... ... heartily supported the war ... saved the country thousands of lives, millions of treasure, countless infractions of the Federal Constitution and the personal rights of the people, and still more from that flood of Radicalism."

Borala has been appointed to the command of the Province of Catalonia by the Provisional Junta. It is reported that a military and commercial treaty has been concluded between France and Holland, and Belgium is expected to join in it.

Disraeli has issued an address to his constituents of Buckinghamshire upon the course pursued by the Ministers on the questions of reform, national finance, the relations between England and foreign nations and the triumphant termination of the Abyssinian war. He continues at length on the reform progress and gives its history and reasons for his objection thereto. He holds that the ministry had the right to expect that Whigs would wait and learn the temper of the new Parliament on that question before pressing their consideration, but they saw fit to bring before the House of Commons at the last moment a proposition severing the Church and State. The dismemberment of the Irish Church was meant and included in that movement. It involved also the stirring up of additional rancor and bitterness in England. It would unsettle property, make confiscation contagious, and worse than all, would give England over to Popery and practically the rule of Foreign Powers.

Gen Dix on the Political Situation

PARIS, August 25, 1868

Certain English paper writers very badly informed and certainly very little interested in the grand political campaign of the coming fall in the United States, have undertaken to state the views of two or three of the American Ministers abroad on the questions involved in the coming election. One paper has stated in the most positive manner that Mr. Reverdy Johnson and Gen. Dix were head and head for Seymour as the next President of the United States. This statement, I have reason to know, is rightly believed to be untrue as to Mr. Johnson, and certainly it is as to Gen. Dix.

The latter speaks with the utmost frankness and frankness on the subject with all and has no disguise when one asks his opinion. He says that he should regret the election of Mr Seymour at this juncture as a great calamity and that the only hope for the peace and tranquility of the country during the next four years is in the firmness, good sense and patriotism of Gen. Grant. He speaks with the same freedom against the resolution passed by the Fourth of July Convention of Democrats for paying the five-twenties in paper and considers it a gross violation of the public faith pledged under circumstances of imminent danger and difficulty. He says that the well known indecision of Seymour, as well as his conduct during the rebellion, and the repudiating declaration of the convention held in New York, which put him in nomination, ought to be ... of the approaching contest.

In every form, Gen. Dix, mindful of the trials and sufferings through which our country has passed during the rebellion, and with a full knowledge of the causes and influences that prompted it and carried it on so long and the class ... that are now ruling the Democratic party, is an avowed opponent of the Democratic party and its leaders and candidates in the coming struggle. He is an open advocate of the election of Gen. Grant through which he sees a career of prosperity and tranquility for our country.

I do not hesitate to state the opinions of General Dix thus fully, for he has expressed them without the slightest reserve to more than one of my intimate acquaintances. No one who has talked with him on the subject has been left in the dark relative to his opinions, which are ... as I have stated above. On my ... knowledge I am sure that I have given, in a brief manner, General Dix's views on the ... matters.

The Oregon Seceders find a Champion in California

The San Francisco Ex[illegible], the leading organ of the Democratic party in California, is quite jubilant over the [illegible] in the Oregon Legislature [illegible] Democratic majority to [illegible] in annulling the Constitution of the United States. That journal undertakes to argue the matter and to show that the Oregon seceders are perfectly right. After sneering at those who assume that the fourteenth [illegible] has been adopted and stating that [illegible] deny that such is the case, the Ex[illegible] proceeds in this wise:

Nor has the Secretary of State declared [illegible] a part of the Constitution. The Secretary published, in obedience to the orders of Congress, sional Directory that [illegible] and New Jersey had no right to withdraw their assent, and if [illegible] Dahomey Legislatures at the South were [illegible] bodies and if the reconstruction legislation was Constitutional then the Amendment was [illegible] —otherwise, otherwise. [illegible] Democrats have not the slightest shadow of doubt that all [illegible] legislation outside of the Constitution will be pronounced null and void by the Supreme Court as soon as the restraining and intimidating hand of the usurpers is removed and that the [illegible] works of their hands will of themselves crumble and pass away upon the accession of Democratic reform, and that at any time before the requisite adoption by the legal number of States a State can withdraw its assent to the amendment just as fast as they get possession of the Legislatures we expect to see them brand the infamous Fourteenth with their reprobation. The Oregon Legislature has done nobly and deserves the thanks of the true patriots if they have recalled the assent of their State.

The assertion that the Secretary of State has not declared the fourteenth amendment to be a part of the Constitution is also virtually made in the Oregon Senate's secession revolution. Unfortunately this like most other arguments on which Democrats rely is at variance with the fact. Nor did the Secretary publish the announcement of the ratification by the requisite number of States with an "if," or any other qualification. His final proclamation on the subject is dated July 28, 1868, and begins as follows:

Official notices has been received at the Department of State, that the Legislatures of the several States next hereinafter named have at the times respectively mentioned, taken the proceedings hereinafter recited in relation to the [illegible] the said proposed amendment, called the fourteenth amendment, namely:

The "ifs" with which the argument put forth by the Examiner in behalf of its seceding brethren of Oregon is so extensively interlarded, do not appear here. Nor do they appear in the following declaration which announces the ratification as completed:

Now therefore be it known that I, Wm. H. Seward, Secretary of State of the United States in execution of the aforesaid Act and of the [illegible] said concurrent resolution of July 21, 1868, and in conformance thereto, do hereby direct the said proposed Amendment to the Constitution of the United States to be published in the newspapers authorized to promulgate the laws of the United States, and I do hereby certify that the said proposed Amendment has been ratified by the States in the manner hereinbefore specified in the said concurrent resolution, namely the States of Connecticut, New Hampshire, Tennessee, New Jersey, Oregon, Vermont, New York, Ohio, Illinois, West Virginia, Kansas, Maine, Nevada, Missouri, Indiana, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Massachusetts, Nebraska, Iowa, Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, Louisiana, South Carolina, Alabama, and also by the Legislature of the State of Georgia, the States here specified being more than three fourths of the States of the United States and do further certify, that the said Amendment has become valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Department of State to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington, this twenty eighth day of July, in the year of our Lord, one thousand eight hundred and sixty eight, and of the independence of the United States the ninety th[illegible].

The E[illegible] is not more fortunate in arguing the case for its Oregon brethren than its Oregon brethren are in supporting their own case by argument. The undeniable fact is, the amendment has been adopted and has become a part of the Constitution and every department of the Government, Legislative, Executive and Judicial, have so recognized it. None know this better than do the Democratic revolutionists who are trying to overthrow the Constitution because the amendment disfranchises the most guilty of the rebels, and prevents the Southern Ku Klux from using the negroes to double their own power in Congress. We should like to see the attempt made to trample upon and prevent the enforcement of this amendment by the "Democracy" of Oregon. They would soon ascertain from experience, as South Carolina has done, whether the Government has the power of "coercion" or not.

"Hard Fisted" Widows and Orphans

Chattering, ad interim, of the Herald says:

The Oregonian has printed time and again articles that were intended to prove that the United States bonds were held by the p[illegible] widows and orphans produced by the war. He has such an obtuse intellect that he could not perceive the inconsistency of applying the word [illegible] to those who have money out at interest. Instead of holding bonds the widows and orphans apply in vain for the bounties and pensions due them from the Government.

Let us see what Horatio Seymour says about this matter. In a speech at Cooper Institute, New York, June 26, just before the New York Convention met, he made the following statement:

All of the funds of savings banks and the insurance companies are not put in government bonds, but they hold an amount which would cripple or ruin them if the bonds were not paid or if they are paid in debased paper. If we add the trusts for widows and orphans we find that 2,500,000 persons are interested in government bonds who are not capitalists and who are in [illegible] owners at present prices under the [illegible] tion of our laws.

Isn't it just possible now that the Oregonian was correct in stating that the widows and orphans "are interested in government bonds"? Chattering ad interim climbs his pole entirely too high.

The Polk County S[illegible] complains that we do not answer its question whether the Republican platform means gold or greenback payments for bonds. We have said hardly less than a thousand times that the bonds can be paid only in gold, and that the Republican party will so pay them. That party does not believe that a man [illegible] any more than an individual [illegible] giving a note [illegible] the celebrated Mr. M[illegible] that when he had given what he called his I. O. U. [illegible] fully cancelled, but he mass of mankind have [illegible] of which he was fairly the originator. Greenbacks are merely promises to pay; suppose they are given in exchange for the bonds, then, and in what kind of currency, are they to be paid in turn?

LETTERS FROM THE CAPITAL

SALEM, Saturday, Oct. 3, 1868.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE SENATE.

Mr. Bayley, of Benton, offered the following resolution which were adopted by an unanimous vote:

Whereas, General George Crook, to whom the [illegible] of the State of Oregon was extended, [illegible] the Capital of the State, therefore [illegible]

[illegible] That General Crook and his staff are [illegible] the Legislative Assembly in joint [illegible] at 11 A. M.

[illegible] We extend this courtesy to General Crook [illegible] officer [illegible] and worthy man. We recognize the services which he performed in the early days [illegible] and we now [illegible] return thanks to him for the labor performed [illegible] he [illegible] which he exhibited in ridding Southern Oregon and Northern California of the [illegible] Indians who formerly infested that part of the [illegible]

[illegible] That a committee of three on the part of the Senate and a like number on the part of the House, be appointed jointly to wait upon General Crook and notify him of the action of this Assembly.

Messrs. Bayley, Cyrus and Ison were appointed [illegible] committee on the part of the Senate.

Mr. Ford from the Committee [illegible] introduced a bill to repeal the act creating a [illegible] district at Oregon City.

Mr. Huston introduced a bill providing for a [illegible] of the laws relating to elections.

The House bill repealing sections of statutes [illegible] was passed, 19 to 4. If the Governor signs it it becomes a law.

The joint resolution withdrawing the assent of Oregon to the 14th amendment of the Constitution of the United States was made the special order for next Tuesday.

JOINT CONVENTION TO RECEIVE GEN. CROOK.

[illegible] o'clock the two houses met in joint convention to receive and welcome Gen. Crook as the guest of the State. He was introduced by Dr. Bayley, of the Senate. Speaker Whiteaker, who had been selected to do the talking on behalf of [illegible] as follows:

GENERAL: It is my pleasant duty as well as privilege to welcome you to the Capital of our State and tender you its hospitalities. In doing this, General, we are going through no empty form, but giving expression to our sincere and earnest feelings. The name of General Crook must ever be dear to the people of this State, but especially to those of Eastern Oregon. By his gallant services in that part of our State now reposes in all the security from savage marauders [illegible] its Capital enjoys, and I am proud, General, to be the organ of a generous people who through me tender you their thanks. On behalf of the people of Oregon and their Legislative Assembly, I welcome you to [illegible] and tender you the hospitalities of the State while here.

Gen. Crook, who is a rather modest man, not half as much as [illegible] as Indian fighter, briefly thanked the convention for the [illegible] he has [illegible] by their [illegible]. He said he had served on the coast four or [illegible] ago, he felt a deep interest in its safety, welfare and progress. In his late service he had but [illegible] his duty, but he was gratified to know that the people of Oregon placed a high appreciation upon what he had been able to accomplish.

A recess of a few minutes then followed, and the members of the Senate and House were personally introduced to the General. [illegible] was dissolved immediately upon being again called to order.

PROCEEDINGS IN THE HOUSE.

Mr. Smith from the committee [illegible] was referred the House memorial [illegible] road from Portland through the [illegible] and Rogue river valleys, reported it back with amendments and a favorable recommendation. Mr. Davis introduced a bill [illegible] for the confinement of persons convicted [illegible] against the United States. Mr. Davenport introduced a bill amendatory of the act regulating the State Insane Asylum. It provides for a Board of Trustees, five in number, three [illegible] at the seat of government. It was ordered printed. The House concurred in the Senate resolution for a joint convention [illegible] Crook, and Waymire, Gazley and Chapman were appointed the committee on the part of the House. There were no other proceedings of interest beyond the acceptance of an invitation to witness the horse-breaking exhibition of Messrs. Walker & Wilson at the fair grounds at 4 P. M. [illegible] Wallace would, in the evening, [illegible] break some of the members of the House of a few of their worst tricks. The curing of human [illegible] however, probably, [illegible]. The House adjourned to Monday and the Senate [illegible] to day.

SATURDAY, OCT. [illegible]

Senate—This morning when the Senate met it was found that a quorum was not present. The Sergeant at Arms was sent after the absent members. A part of the absent members came in and the regular order of business was proceeded with.

Horman presented a petition from [illegible] county asking that they be allowed two terms of the Circuit Court for that county per year instead of one as it is now. The petition was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Herman from the Judiciary Committee reported back the bill to prevent and punish vagrancy.

On motion of Miller of Jackson the bill was ordered engrossed and read the third time to morrow.

Huston introduced a bill to provide for the sale of school lands of the State.

Section 1 provides that all school lands of the State shall be sold to actual settlers. Provided sales shall be made to actual settlers and in quantities not exceeding one hundred and sixty acres.

Section 2 makes it the duty of the County Superintendent of Common Schools to appraise the lands in his county on application of the person wishing to purchase the same. The other sections fixes minimum prices and terms of sale.

The bill passed to its second reading.

On motion of Bayley, the Senate adjourned until 2 o'clock P. M., Monday next.

THE STATE FAIR.

SALEM, OCT. 3, 1868.

The fifth was the great day of the fair both as regards the number of people present and the interest and importance of the exercises. The award of premiums was completed and everybody flocked hither and thither, to the east, the west, the north, the south, to see whose exhibitions wore the triumphant blue. Those who had but just come and had therefore seen nothing pushed and elbowed their way most energetically everywhere to see what they should see, while those who had been on the ground from first to last pushed and elbowed their way lazily everywhere to see every thing over again. Everybody thus pushing and elbowing around, you may be sure there was such confusion as rarely ever comes.

THE PLOWING MATCH.

At nine o'clock, when the managers repaired to the mechanical department with the announcement that the plowing match would take place immediately, there was a general movement among the vast multitudes in that direction. The teams were already hitched up and in a few minutes the procession started for the field outside the south gate where the trial was to take place. One of the bands led off and next came one of the [illegible] driven by Mr. A. J. Dufur, the retiring President of the Society, followed by another driven by Mr. Dubitt, the President elect this year. Then came the other gangs, the sulky plows, walking plows, grain sowers, etc., and a great crowd of people, farmers, mechanics, men of all ranks and professions and ladies, all interested in the coming trial and all proud of the new [illegible] great interest now manifesting itself in Oregon's leading branch of industry. It was a real triumphal procession—such as had never been seen in Oregon, and there was not a heart interested in the State but felt that this was [illegible] Oregon's greatest days. Arrived upon the field, President Dufur, standing upon the seat of the gang plow he had just driven, addressed the vast crowd in a brief but eloquent speech, alluding in happy terms to the eminently successful display in [illegible] department. [illegible] the trial began. Each man [illegible] was allowed to mark [illegible] land as he pleased and plow as he might think best. Away went the Webfoot, the Challenge, the Sweet gang, the Pfeil gang, the Pfeil sulky and several walking plows, and with each a double column of interested spectators. After a half [illegible] so the working of each began to show what each could do, and the crowd began to divide in opinion for this or that plow, just as it is in human nature to differ about everything. [illegible] like everybody else I came, I saw and I formed an opinion, but that is nobody's business. I am to record facts as the committee saw them. The first premium was awarded to the Challenge gang, [illegible] made by Mr. Mason [illegible] the [illegible] gang made by Lewis & Wolgamot [illegible] made by Lewis & Wolgamot, took the first premium deservedly. The Webfoot gang invented [illegible] of Oregon City, [illegible] to go through in every ground [illegible] complicated and there [illegible] able to get out of repair. It is due to Mr. [illegible] to say that he had not had time to perfect the plow as he intends to have it. It is unlike all the other gangs in being so constructed as to rise out of the ground either point or heel first, and this makes it peculiarly adapted to plowing through high places. In this respect the committee expressed the opinion that the Pfeil gang was superior to the Challenge, which was the first premium. The Challenge plow was a very even furrow, turns it over nicely and goes along as steadily as a spring buggy on a smooth pavement. The driver has nothing to do but drive his team till he wants to raise the gang out of the ground, when he plants [illegible] lever and presses [illegible]. The gang rises up out and [illegible] and runs very easily [illegible] ground. It is constructed in extremely simple [illegible] the quality the committee awarded the first premium. The Pfeil gang [illegible] plow [illegible] but as it requires the [illegible] to [illegible] hold a lever with his foot the committee decided that it will take second rank. Mr. Sweet's gang did very good work, but it was not [illegible] trial and the inventor here [illegible] After plowing for [illegible] one of Fairbanks's dynamometers was applied [illegible] to determine the relative draught with the following results: Challenge gang, average 4 [illegible] greatest draught in deep furrow 540 lbs; Pfeil gang average 400, deep furrow [illegible] Webfoot gang average [illegible], deep furrow 9[illegible]. Sweet's gang average [illegible] deep furrow 1,100. Pfeil's single sulky, average [illegible] deep furrow 300. [illegible] single walking plow average 250, deep furrow [illegible] single walking plow average 200, deep furrow [illegible] It will thus be seen that in these tests the Challenge and Pfeil were equal in deep furrow, the Pfeil was 100 pounds the lightest draft, that is it required 100 pounds less to draw it. Of the single plows Pfeil's sulky was fifty pounds lighter than the best walking plow in ordinary furrow and [illegible] lighter in deep furrow. In these tests the several plows cut equal furrows in width and depth. The Pfeil sulky as a single plow elicited unbounded commendation from all witnesses.

GRAIN SOWER.

After the plowing had proceeded for some time Mr. [illegible] very simple grain [illegible] sowed wheat. It worked to a charm, scattering the grain very evenly. Mr. [illegible] took a blue premium.

ANNUAL ADDRESS.

At 11 o'clock A. M., Mr. J. S. Clark, a young man born, raised and educated in Oregon, delivered the annual address. It was listened to by a vast audience in the grove beside the pavilion, and received as it deserved many flattering encomiums.

TRIAL OF SPEED.

In the trotting race at half past one there were two entries—H. G. Hailey's Morgan and Watkins' Red Buck. The latter was a little ahead [illegible] pass the judges stand till after [illegible] [illegible] The judges refused to give a premium [illegible]

The running race however at [illegible] M. [illegible] tried for the favor of the trotting [illegible] [illegible] was two. [illegible] best 2 in 3 [illegible] Wm. Griffith's [illegible] Henry Walk[illegible] Jeff Davis [illegible] the start for the first heat the three got off well together and came to the [illegible] Jeff [illegible] Portland [illegible] At the second start [illegible] and Jeff Davis went off together [illegible] at a [illegible] before the grey mare was turned [illegible] the first mile [illegible] left [illegible] the same [illegible] very easily and steadily [illegible] after passing the stand [illegible] over the [illegible] He has started after all though he [illegible] the first heat [illegible]

After the half past [illegible] Put Smith [illegible] was sent around at [illegible] He made [illegible] sulky in 4 [illegible] ever made on the track [illegible] with any trouble.

EXHIBITION OF MACHINES.

The Dan[illegible] Thresher and the Vanderbilt [illegible] Thresher were taken out during the afternoon and exhibited [illegible] [illegible] features of the afternoon. Several of the machines were exhibited as a steam [illegible] the grounds [illegible] the mechanics department for the purpose of furnishing motive power.

TRIAL OF EQUESTRIANSHIP.

The praise of fair and most graceful equestrianship were contended for by Mrs. Mariel Walker of Dayton, Miss Mary [illegible] Neely, Mrs. Susan Bailey of Albany, Miss Evelina Anderson, Miss Mary [illegible] of Albany and Mrs. Martin [illegible] of Albany. The first prize was awarded to Mrs. Walker and the second to Mrs. R[illegible]

BASE BALL MATCH.

The game between Clackamas and Pioneer clubs began at two and through interruptions and insufficient of players did not close till dark, the continue only eight innings being played. When game was called the score stood Clackamas 6[illegible] Pioneers 53 runs.

OFFICERS OF THE SOCIETY.

The great success of the fair has been greatly promoted by the efficiency of the officers and Board of Managers who have through out all the preparations and the exhibition exerted themselves without cessation to have everything go off well and satisfactorily. Individual mention might seem unfair but I cannot well refrain from saying a special word in commendation of President Dufur and of the Marshal—Mr. Fr[illegible] man, of Linn county. Nor can I omit to acknowledge the many [illegible] extended me by both them and other officers of the Society.

THE CLOSING DAY.

To day has been devoted to packing up and starting for home. There have been some races, but as they were not in the programme I have not looked after them. There are still a few hundred people on the ground besides the trades people and it is not unlikely that as inspiriting liquids are cheap and plenty there will be a high old drunk to night.

A POLITICAL CHAPTER.

I wrote the other day that Mr. Huston of the Senate objected to the resolution censuring Senators Williams and Corbett because he believed it was fathered by Nesmith or Humason. His objection was made in conversation not in the Senate. I also expressed the opinion that he would weaken and vote for the resolution. My prediction was correct. He weakened—that is the word exactly—and voted for the resolution almost in the same breath by which he objected and simply because he had not backbone enough to withstand the frown of Beriah Brown—he of the "feeble frame." The resolution it is said, was a concoction of Nesmith and Beriah and they had issued instructions to have it put through both Houses. Huston and H[illegible] knew [illegible] and Huston and [illegible] [illegible] I repeat [illegible] The resolution was laid on the table and Nesmith went [illegible] Legislature which suffered itself to [illegible] farmer. When the [illegible] came up again Beriah Brown sat beside Huston [illegible] aye. Huston had been [illegible] whipped enough [illegible] party [illegible] trusted with having a few [illegible] resented beside him. At all events [illegible] sheepish enough when [illegible] the great [illegible] Farmer had [illegible] unfortunately [illegible] who [illegible] [illegible] a radical Democrat and of professed great independence, but the lash of party [illegible] was too much for him in this case and hereafter it may be expected he will be as meek as could be desired of a servant of party dictators. The [illegible]

The Democratic blowout last night was a slim affair when trimmed of [illegible] orators. The [illegible] numbered just 107, of whom 57 were [illegible] and after the [illegible] rockets and tar [illegible] and only the speakers were left to interest the crowd the audience dwindled down to less than three or four hundred—a mere handful compared with the numbers of people in town. [illegible] E.

The OREGONIAN by its editor and correspondent goes after Mr. Gilfrey and accuses him of [illegible] young man. Mr. Gilfrey might reply in the language of [illegible] "Sir, the atrocious crime [illegible] young man I shall neither attempt to palliate nor deny."—Herald.

[illegible] taken from that valuable and [illegible] Pitt [illegible] [illegible] Pitt's speeches were never reported [illegible] words were [illegible] written by [illegible] statesman. Many of [illegible] specimens of the Parliamentary eloquence of that time [illegible]

The [illegible] of New Jersey have nominated a Know Nothing for [illegible] Know Nothing for Congress in the Third District, and another for Congress in the Fifth District.

East Portland Bridge.—The bridge south from East Portland across the deep slough has for a long time been in a state of dilapidation, and to save the expense of a ... to the county, if it is not already too late, it be... the County Commissioners to see that the necessary repairs are made immediately. Sometime in July last a small lad, son of Mr. M..., fell through an opening in this bridge, about thirty feet, and was crippled for life. A man passing over the same bridge on last Saturday was severely, if not dangerously injured, and had to be taken to county hospital. We trust the County Commissioners at the term of Court beginning to-day, will take ... to have all necessary repairs made without delay. The great amount of travel over this bridge demand that it be put in good and safe condition immediately and not allowed to remain a source of danger to the lives and limbs of travelers.

From Oregon City.—We gather the following from the Enterprise of last Saturday: The Clackamas Milling Company are now shipping ash plank to Portland.... A band of 4,000 head of sheep passed through Oregon City on the 29th, designed for Silver City, Idaho.... The P. T. Co.'s wharf extension is now being used. Flour, grain, etc., is handled once less by this improvement. The grade for the O. C. R. R. is now finished across ... Oregon City. Good weather and Chinamen put it through.... The barn of Mr. S. Miller, lost by fire last week, was one of the best in the county. He is preparing to rebuild.... The left arm of a little son of Mr. J. R. Ralston, of this city, was accidentally broken on Monday last in two places.... A splendid church edifice has been erected and dedicated to service by the Catholics at Aurora.... The grade on the East Side of O. C. R. R. is completed as far as Aurora, and 300 Chinese are now at work south of that point.

Base Ball.—Under this head we might fill a column, did we feel inclined to make public all we have heard on the subject during the last two days, but as there is a contradiction in the information we have received from different sources, we forbear to make any definite statements in regard to the late contest at Salem between the Clackamas and Pioneer Clubs beyond the fact that the latter was beaten. We have received a letter from the Secretary of the first named club in which he says the Clackamas boys ... challenges from the Pioneers to meet them at the State Fair. If the Secretary is correct our information ... is wrong. We aimed to do no injustice to any one, we are not a base "ballist," ... and have no bias in the matter and would be last to say anything to mar fraternal feeling among those interested in the great national game.

Death from Scalding.—A young child of Mr. H. ..., Jr., who lives on Sixth Street, died yesterday after ... from the effects of a severe scalding received last Friday. The child was just old enough to walk about the room, and reaching up on a table tipped over a kettle of boiling water, which poured all over the body of the little one, burning it terribly. The sufferings of the child were ... until death terminated them.

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 595 AND 597 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

THE ATTEMPT TO BANISH [illegible] GRANT TO MEXICO

The National Republican and Republican Congressional [illegible] have just put out a campaign life of Grant prepared with much care [illegible] of this character is the [illegible] attempt made to get General Grant out of the country when [illegible] in the way of the [illegible] of the Congressional plan of reconstruction. The account says:

The Administration did not like the lately to remove from [illegible] the most popular man in America, [illegible] been treated [illegible] therefore [illegible] way and to put Sherman [illegible] would prove [illegible] supple [illegible] his [illegible] Sherman had said and written several things which the President construed into an approval of his policy. So Grant was directed to order Sherman to Washington, but not informed of the reason of the order.

[illegible] fully explain the extraordinary [illegible] ings which now [illegible] place it is necessary to take a retrospect. The [illegible] of Mexico by the French during the existence of the [illegible] rebellion, was undoubtedly undertaken in the interest of that rebellion, and when our internal war was over Grant, regarding the French occupation as only part and parcel of the rebellion, was very anxious to compel the evacuation of Mexico. He did not think it would be necessary to resort to arms in order to accomplish this, but he believed that a threat of war in case the evacuation were not immediate would have the desired effect.

He urged repeatedly and earnestly upon the Government that now was the time while we had still hundreds of thousands of men in arms to say to the Emperor of the French that we could not tolerate the occupation of Mexico by a European power. Before our armies were disbanded he ordered Sheridan with a large force to the banks of the Rio Grande, especially to watch the movements in Mexico, and with the hope that he could persuade the Government to call peremptorily upon France to withdraw. But the Secretary of State had no relish for such positive proceedings. They were not in accordance with his adroit diplomacy, and the outspokenness of the soldier was not so acceptable to the President as the wily machinations of the veteran politician. The President professed to wish to see the French leave Mexico, but he never followed Grant's advice in the matter. He never summoned France to leave until he knew her troops were embarking; still Grant kept up for two years his anxious and earnest importunity on this subject. He spurred on the unwilling Government, and whatever was accomplished in this matter was due, in reality, to his pertinacity and to the threat which the presence of Sheridan, with an army on the Rio Grande, constantly offered to Louis Napoleon. Besides this Grant openly spoke in favor of his views, a course most unusual with him—and fostered by every means in his power the popular feeling against the French occupation. He constantly advised that arms should be supplied the Mexicans by our government; he encouraged the Mexicans whom he saw to hold out, and was, by far, the most active and persistent friend of the Monroe doctrine in America. It is not too much to assert that it was this unintermitted effort and influence of his that stimulated the Government, and menaced the Emperor of the French, (who was well aware of Grant's feeling on the subject,) and that finally secured the evacuation of Mexico. But for this, the time serving, procrastinating policy of the Secretary of State would have lasted till now, and the Empire of Maximilian would have still existed—the nucleus, perhaps, of a future rebellion, as it was both during and long after the war the nest of traitors and the abettor of treason.

The Administration, in its anxiety to get rid of such a loyal, law-abiding and powerful patriot as Grant, bethought itself of Mexico, and determined to send him thither. Knowing his profound interest in the subject of Mexican independence, it was thought he would bite at the bait at once, and, as the country was well aware of his sentiment, there would be excuse enough to veil their real motives and account for the exile of the greatest of our soldiers. The movement was sudden. No peculiar interest in Mexico had been manifested by the Government for months. It was known that the French Emperor was tardily preparing to withdraw his troops; there was not the shadow of the real cause for the proposition; but all at once in November 1866 the President informed Grant that he meant to send him to Mexico. He was to go not at the head of an army but on a diplomatic mission in connection with an obscure individual one Col. L. D. Campbell who had recently been appointed Minister to Mexico, but who it was supposed, could not be confirmed by the Senate. There was no special object of the mission announced. Grant was simply to go to Mexico, and examine, as well as he could into the state of affairs; he was given no powers or authority, not even that of an ordinary minister, and was not instructed or empowered either to make demands or back his statements with menaces or men. He was simply to give Lewis D. Campbell the "benefit of his advice in carrying out the instructions of the Secretary of State."

The device was transparent to the far seeing, honest man, and he promptly declined to go. This was in conversation with the President. But a day or two afterwards the President returned to the subject, and urged the embassy on Grant, saying he had sent for Sherman to take his place in the meantime. Congress was about to assemble and the air was full of rumors that the President would refuse to acknowledge the validity of Congress and attempt to disperse it by arms. Mr. Johnson had recently seemed to have [illegible] designs in regard to Maryland. Grant remembered all this and again declined to leave the country. After this, he was summoned to a full Cabinet meeting, where his detailed instructions were read out by the Secretary of State as if the object and his refusal had been of no account. They were determined to make him go, whether he would or not—to drive him out of the country which he had saved. Grant was now aroused and, before the whole Cabinet, declared his unwillingness to leave. Whereupon the President not answering Grant turned to the Attorney General and asked him whether there was any reason why Grant should not obey this order—whether he was ineligible to the position in any way. Grant at once started to his feet and exclaimed, "I can answer that question Mr. President, without appealing to the Attorney General. I am an American citizen, have been guilty of no treason or other crime and am eligible to any civil office to which any other American is eligible. But this is a purely civil duty to which you would assign me, and I cannot be compelled to undertake it. Any legal military order you give me I will obey; but this is civil and not military, and I decline the duty. No power on earth can force me to it." The President and the ministers were astounded and silent and Grant left the Cabinet chamber.

Even after this copies of his instructions were forwarded to him through the Secretary of War who was directed to request him to proceed to Mexico. He now wrote a second letter declining most positively the duty assigned to him. But meanwhile Sherman had been sent for and had arrived. The country was rife with rumors of the object of his coming, the Administration had to conjure up some excuse for sending for him. The President, therefore, urged him to accept the position of Secretary of War but this Sherman peremptorily declined. So after a day or two, Grant was directed to turn over his instructions for the Mexican mission to Sherman and Sherman was sent to Mexico with Campbell while Grant was [illegible] man accomplished [illegible] For all that was [illegible] remained in St [illegible] sary to save the [illegible] and he was made [illegible]

Nature when [illegible] or [illegible] [illegible] when [illegible] AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL the world's great remedy that cures it.

SOOTHING AND BRACING.—There is no preparation in existence which has such a soothing effect in cases of nervous excitement as DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Although the fame of this renowned tonic [illegible] mainly on its astonishing cures of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint and intestinal disorders it is equally efficacious in nervous complaints. Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It cheers and [illegible] the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any unpleasant reaction. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere. EXTINGUISHER

PORTABLE

SELF-ACTING FIRE ENGINE!

THIS INVENTION HAS FOR ITS OBJECT THE extinguishing of Fires in a more instantaneous manner than has hitherto been discovered.

The advantages to be derived from the use of the EXTINGUISHER are as follows:

Every fire begins on a small scale, and its rapid and uncontrollable increase is owing to the fact that at the time of its commencement (when every moment's delay in checking it is of the utmost importance) no means are ready at hand.

The EXTINGUISHER is the only Engine that fills this requirement.

It is always ready for use, though standing unused for years.

It puts out Fire instantly.

It saves the great deluge of water now used for this purpose.

It is as effective in the hands of a Boy as the most experienced Fireman.

It is portable, and as easily handled as a bucket of water.

It possesses within itself the power of a force pump and is as effective as a Steam Engine.

It is the only known invention that will put out Fires from Kerosene, Tar, Naphthaline and combustible materials now in common use.

PRICE—No. 1, $50, No. 2, $55, No. 3, $60.

Do not delay if you feel any of the [illegible] [illegible] complaint, or if your acts have [illegible] them, but by instant application [illegible] only hope of health and happiness [illegible] mercury or other deleterious drugs [illegible] time always guaranteed, and full and [illegible] [illegible]

The afflicted are assured of every [illegible]

PERSONS AFFLICTED [illegible] [VE]NEREAL.

During the seventeen years since the [illegible] the Institu[te] the number of cases of [illegible] been treated [illegible] record unequ[alled] [illegible] in the [illegible] [illegible]

Without Mercury or other [illegible] Drugs,

Shows conclusively the use of these [illegible] called for but actually dangerous [illegible] established medical principle that [illegible] by entering the blood run the cons[titution] [illegible] life.

The Doctor effects a cure in recent [illegible] and [illegible] in curing those of [illegible] without submitting the patient to such [illegible] draw upon him the slightest susp[icion] [illegible] neglect [illegible] whether in [illegible] [illegible] changed. Cures alw[ays] [illegible]

IMPORTANT TO F[EMALES]

When a female is in trouble or afflicted [illegible] requires medical or surgical assist[ance] [illegible] Where is there a physician [illegible] and whose respectable standing [illegible] commend him to the confidence of the [illegible] Doctor understanding how imperatively [illegible] requirements are, feels called upon to [illegible] calling the attention of the afflicted to the [illegible] [illegible] Professor of Obstetrics and Female [illegible] years, and is fully qualified to [illegible] both medically and surgically, not in a [illegible] but in as thorough a manner as care [illegible] in the hospitals and private families [illegible] them from the hands of the unq[ualified] [illegible] Therefore families can [illegible] a father [illegible] All affliction can find in him [illegible] and sympathize with and befriend them [illegible] in whose secrecy the utmost confi[dence] [illegible] consultation by letter or otherwise, [illegible] [illegible] weakness and trouble [illegible] Private apartments are provided, when [illegible] [illegible] all the advantages of an [illegible] [illegible] and the most skillful and [illegible]

TO CORRESPONDENTS.—Persons, either [illegible] residing in the interior are often deterred [illegible] the Doctor because they cannot spare the [illegible] the expense of a visit to the city.
